Sample Anticipation Guide Statements and Answers

The anticipation guide typically includes statements that prompt agreement or disagreement. Below are common statements along with suggested answers and explanations.

1. "Everyone has the right to pursue their dreams."

Answer: Agree.

Explanation: This statement aligns with the central theme of "A Raisin in the Sun." The characters each have unique dreams, reflecting their desires for a better life. However, the play illustrates how systemic barriers often hinder these pursuits, particularly for marginalized individuals.

2. "Money is the key to happiness."

Answer: Disagree.

Explanation: While financial stability is portrayed as a means to achieve certain aspirations, the play suggests that true happiness comes from family, love, and personal fulfillment. Characters like Mama emphasize that wealth is not the sole measure of success.

3. "Family should come before personal ambitions."

Answer: Agree.

Explanation: The tensions between personal ambitions and family obligations are prevalent in the play. Walter Lee Younger's desire for financial success often clashes with his family's needs and values. Ultimately, the play advocates for a balance between personal dreams and familial responsibilities.

4. "Racial discrimination is a thing of the past."

Answer: Disagree.

Explanation: The play is set against the backdrop of segregation and racial discrimination, illustrating that these issues are still relevant. The Younger family faces prejudice when they attempt to move into a predominantly white neighborhood, highlighting ongoing societal challenges.

5. "It is acceptable to sacrifice one's dreams for the sake of others."

Answer: It depends on the situation.

Explanation: This statement invites nuanced discussion. Characters like Beneatha and Mama sacrifice for the sake of family, indicating the complexities of such decisions. The play portrays the tension between personal aspirations and familial loyalty, suggesting that sacrifices can be both noble and burdensome.
