The Origins of Rome

Foundation Legends

The story of Rome's foundation is steeped in legend. According to tradition, it was founded in 753 BC by Romulus and Remus, twin brothers raised by a she-wolf. The tale emphasizes themes of survival and destiny, traits that would come to define the Roman spirit.

- Romulus and Remus: The mythical founders are said to have established the city after Romulus killed Remus over a dispute regarding the city's location.
- Augury and Omens: Early Romans believed in omens, and Romulus reportedly chose the Palatine Hill as the site for the new city based on a favorable augury.

Historical Context

While legends abound, archaeological evidence points to the gradual development of Rome as a settlement. It began as a cluster of huts on the Palatine Hill and evolved into a significant urban center.
