Examples of Past Sermon Series

Over the years, Andy Stanley has developed several memorable Christmas sermon series, each with its unique angle on the Christmas narrative. Here are a few notable examples:

“The Story of Us”

In this series, Stanley explored the relational dynamics between God and humanity. He emphasized how the birth of Jesus was not just a significant historical event but also a pivotal moment in the ongoing story of God's relationship with His creation. The series encouraged attendees to reflect on their own relationships and how they can embody the love demonstrated in the Christmas story.

“The Gift”

This sermon series focused on the idea of Jesus as the ultimate gift to humanity. Stanley discussed the significance of God's generosity and how believers are called to reflect that generosity in their own lives. The series prompted congregants to think about their giving, both in terms of finances and time, especially during the holiday season.

“Christmas In Us”

In this series, Stanley shifted the focus to what it means to carry the spirit of Christmas throughout the year. He discussed the importance of embodying hope, peace, joy, and love in everyday interactions, making the message of Christmas a lifestyle rather than just a seasonal celebration.

Preparing for the Sermon Series

As the Christmas season approaches, preparation for the sermon series at North Point Community Church begins well in advance. This preparation involves:

- Prayer and Reflection: The church leadership spends time in prayer, seeking guidance on the themes and messages that will resonate with the congregation.
- Creative Planning: The creative team works on visuals, stage design, and promotional materials to create an engaging environment that enhances the worship experience.
- Community Involvement: Encouraging church members to invite friends and family to services, fostering a spirit of inclusion and outreach.
