Types of Gangs

1. Street Gangs: Typically comprised of local youths, these gangs control specific neighborhoods and engage in petty crime, drug dealing, and turf wars.
2. Organized Crime Syndicates: These are structured groups involved in larger-scale operations, including drug trafficking, human trafficking, and extortion.
3. Prison Gangs: Formed within correctional facilities, these gangs maintain their influence even after members are released, often dictating terms for street gangs.
4. Motorcycle Clubs: Often romanticized in popular media, these clubs can be involved in gang wars over territory and illegal enterprises.
