Dallas Cowboys Number 20 History

The Dallas Cowboys, one of the most iconic franchises in the National Football League (NFL), have a storied history that includes several legendary players who have donned the number 20 jersey. This number is not just a numerical representation; it's a symbol of excellence, hard work, and unforgettable moments on the football field. In this article, we will delve into the history of the number 20 jersey in Dallas Cowboys lore, highlighting key players, memorable performances, and the impact they had on the team and its fans.

Key Players Who Wore Number 20

Throughout the history of the Dallas Cowboys, several notable players have worn the number 20 jersey. Each of these athletes brought their unique skills and contributions to the team, leaving an indelible mark on Cowboys history.

1. Mel Renfro

One of the most prominent figures to wear the number 20 for the Cowboys was Mel Renfro. Renfro, a cornerback and safety, played for the Cowboys from 1964 to 1977.

- Achievements:
- Inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1996.
- Selected to 10 Pro Bowls and 5 First-Team All-Pro teams.
- Renfro was known for his incredible speed, agility, and ball-hawking skills.
- In 1970, he recorded a remarkable 10 interceptions in a single season.

Renfro's versatility allowed him to play both cornerback and safety, making him an invaluable asset to the Cowboys' secondary. His contributions were instrumental in the team's success during the 1970s, including their Super Bowl victories.

2. Darren Woodson

Another standout player who wore number 20 for the Dallas Cowboys was Darren Woodson. Woodson, a safety, played for the Cowboys from 1992 to 2004 and became one of the best safeties in NFL history.

- Achievements:
- 3-time Super Bowl champion (XXVII, XXVIII, XXX).
- Selected to 5 Pro Bowls and 3 First-Team All-Pro teams.
- Woodson is the franchise's all-time leader in tackles and interceptions for a safety.

Woodson's leadership and hard-hitting style of play helped solidify the Cowboys' defense during their dominant run in the 1990s. His contributions were pivotal in transforming the Cowboys into a perennial contender.

3. Felix Jones

In more recent history, Felix Jones wore number 20 during his tenure with the Dallas Cowboys from 2008 to 2012. A running back out of Arkansas, Jones was known for his speed and ability to change direction quickly.

- Achievements:
- Selected in the first round of the 2008 NFL Draft.
- Played an essential role in the Cowboys' running game as a complementary back.
- Notable for his 73-yard touchdown run against the Seattle Seahawks in 2010.

Though not as historically significant as Renfro or Woodson, Jones brought excitement to the Cowboys' offense and showcased the potential of a dynamic running game.
